We take pride in our mission and work, reward performance, strive for excellence and being solution-oriented in delivering innovative, progressive and quality interventions to serve the TB affected people and communities.

We are highly committed professionals accountable to TB affected people, communities and partners, act with integrity, strive for excellence, and work as one team and in partnership with stakeholders to collectively end TB.

We cultivate a safe environment that encourages open, sometimes difficult conversations, speaking up rather than suffering in silence, and acknowledging our mistakes and learning from them.

We actively listen, consider and value everyone’s backgrounds, experience and perspectives among our team and partners, even when they are different from ours, and assume best intentions.

We celebrate diversity, appreciate people’s multiple identities and contributions, make everyone feel welcomed, accepted and celebrated in their differences.

We celebrate diversity, appreciate people’s multiple identities and contributions, make everyone feel welcomed, accepted and celebrated in their differences.

We take pride in our mission and work, reward performance, strive for excellence and being solution-oriented in delivering innovative, progressive and quality interventions to serve the TB affected people and communities.

We are the culture we want.