Financial Resources for TB Response

Decision Point 36-6

1. The Board commends the Secretariat and partners for the work done in support of the Global Fund’s Seventh Replenishment and enabling countries to apply for the new funding cycle.

2. The Board recommends that the Secretariat and partners support high TB burden countries to define what it means to end TB in their respective countries in terms of the targeted level of TB incidence and deaths in 2030 and to develop ambitious and fully costed national strategic plans including a comprehensive set of interventions needed to reach the targets.

3. The Board acknowledges with appreciation the additional funding to countries to support TB efforts from the Global Fund’s COVID-19 Response Mechanism (C19RM). The Board thanks the Global Fund, the Stop TB Partnership Secretariat and partners for their work on prioritizing C19RM investments in TB diagnostics that can serve the dual purpose of detecting TB as well as COVID-19 and other airborne respiratory infections. Going forward, the Board strongly recommends that the Global Fund C19RM continues to support investments that could also benefit TB programs, especially around diagnostics, community engagement, and airborne infection prevention and control.

4. The Board recommends that the Secretariat continues documenting and further strengthening how TB responses contribute towards pandemic prevention, preparedness and response. Recognizing the opportunity of the Pandemic Fund call for proposals, the Board recommends the Secretariat to advocate for and support high TB burden countries to apply to the Pandemic Fund, including in their proposals interventions to strengthen elements of their TB programmes that can contribute to the longer-term objective of preparing for future airborne respiratory pandemics.

5. The Board appreciates the leadership of the Government of Indonesia and the work done by the World Bank and Global Fund on the newly announced $300 million in additional financing for Indonesia’s TB program. The Board recognizes that this is a valuable financing strategy which benefitted India and Indonesia and other eligible high burden countries should consider it. The Board appreciates the advocacy of the Secretariat in support of these innovative co-financing programs and requests the Secretariat to identify additional countries where such opportunities may exist. Considering the huge funding gaps in the national TB strategic plans of many high burden countries, the Board calls upon the leadership of the World Bank and Global Fund to prioritize such financing mechanisms for more countries and consider announcing a bold initiative on this during the 2023 UNHLM on TB.

6. The Board expresses significant concern that there will be no Strategic Initiative for TB in the next funding cycle of the Global Fund. In the past, the Strategic Initiative has enabled partners to provide support to countries for Global Fund grant implementation. The Board notes this critical gap and requests donors to support partners to mobilize resources to be able to support implementation of Global Fund grants in countries.

7. The Board notes with appreciation the work done by Copenhagen Consensus Centre which has identified TB as one of the 12 best investments for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals promises. The Board recommends that the Secretariat builds advocacy around this globally for resource mobilization for the TB response.

The Board recognizes that UNOPS developed a comprehensive response plan in consultation with its Executive Board and welcomes the public dashboard to track its implementation.
